

A View From the Pew

Choice

Life is full of opportunities to choose. Choosing is a necessity that we cannot avoid. Refusing to decide is a choice just the same. I was thinking about what our purpose is as Christians who are on assignment to earth. It is to love others as God in Christ Jesus loves us. How do we do this? Since every Christian is indwelt with the Holy Spirit we must choose to allow Him to pour out His love through us to others. In surrendering our wills to Him we become channels of blessing in our daily lives. Every person longs to be loved and to love back in return. It is only in Christ that our longing for love is realized. In the Letters written to the Church, we as believers are told repeatedly to love and honor our brothers and sisters in Christ. If we choose to obey the Agape love of God is manifested to the entire world.

“May the Lord make your love increase and overflow for each other and for everyone else, just as ours does for you.” (1 Thessalonians 3:12)

Come, let us do as the Lord commanded and love Him with everything we have and love our neighbors as ourselves. Alleluia!

Thank You

Dear Family,

Thank you so much for the prayers, calls, cards, texts (thanks Bro. Gary) and support given by you when I was down and out. There is nothing as comforting or as reassuring than the prayers of the faithful—answered prayers!

A very special thanks to Marianna Sistrunk for coming to our rescue. Just like the little Dutch boy who held is finger in the dyke to prevent the dam from breaking, Marianna held her fingers to the keyboard and saved our dam from breaking!

Again, my love and thanks to my church family—to quote “There’s no place I’d rather be.”

Much love,
Ann Carter
